LIFE SAVING DEMONSTRATION AT ARMORY HALL

Armory hall will tonight at 8:00 o'clock be the scene of a lecture and demonstration of the latest methods in fie saving. Harold P. Twurilliger, the field representative of the First Aid and Life Saving Service, National American Red Cross, will be the lecturer-demonstrator. This lecture should be of special interest to all miners, firemen, police, and school teachers. No admission will be charged.

Emil J. N. Ott, Chief of the Nevada City Fire Department, is in charge of the lecture.

MANY ATTEND THE LAST RITES FOR MRS. BEERYMAN

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Sarah Berryman, who passed away at her home on Pine street on Saturday, was held at Holme's Funeral parlors on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 oclock. Many friends from all over the county came to pay their last tribute to this beloved resident of Nevada county, who lived among them for over fifty years. Mrs. Berryman was a native of England where she was born March 18, 1871. She came to North Columbia in this county on March 25, 1885, and on the following day she was married to the late Andrew Beeryman, who passed away a number of years ago.

She is survived by one brother, George Curnow, of this city, and the late Phillip, Thomas and John Curnow, were her brothers. There also survive to mourn her passing a large number of nephews, nieces ,grandnephews and grand nieces.

She was a member of Evangeline Chapter No. 9, O. E. S., and Neva Rebekah Lodge No. 165, I. O. O. F.

A great profusion of flowers testified to the great esteem in which she was held. At the funeral Mrs. Catherine Celio feelingly sang, "When I Stand on the Street of Gold" and "Lead Kindly Light." The pall bearers were: Messrs. John W. O'Neil, George Calanan, Wm. Farrell, H. Skeahan, J. Williams and Charls Avery.

ALASKA MINE

The company reopening the old Alaska mine, near Pike City are installing 400 feet of 10 inch pipe to be used in unwatering the double compartment shaft. One two inch pipe line is to be installed just outside the 10 inch pipe and passed under it in the bottom of the shaft and brought up in side to the surface. A compressed air lift will force air down the pipe and water will be forced out of the shaft through the two inch pipe inside the larger one.

At the 120 foot level an old drain tunnel 2,000 feet long drains in to the Middle Yuba River and the shaft is unwatered 80 feet below that at this time.

Two drifts are being cleaned out on the 120 foot level, one on the Alaska vein and the other on the Grizzly vein. Some work is being done on an old drift on the property also. Electricity was cut into the property about two weeks ago.

It is understood New York capital is behind the deal. The company has a lease from Mrs. Schuyler, of Carmel, widow of the late General Schuyler. Jim Trimbeth is superintendent and R. C. Eisenhauer is engineer.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS TOMORROW

The Bible Class of the Methodist church is to hold their quarterly dinner and social Tuesday evening instead of Wednesday as first planned.

There were 70 members present at the Rosebud Luncheon last Wednesday when each member found her Rosebud and drew names for the next year.

An oustanding feature of the decorations was a basket brought by Mrs. Joe Day. Sprays of Azaleas and mountain laurel in their second blossoming and blackberry sprays carrying green, red and black fruits interspersed with the bright autumn leaves, a big horn of plenty also brought praise from everyone for its beauty.

LEGIONNAIRES TO PLAY SANTA CLAUS AGAIN

Hague-Thomas-Hegarty Post, of American Legion, are planning to help gladden the Christmas season for as many of the little ones who need help as possible. At Christmas time children need not only the necessities but also toys and candy. Hegarty Post plans to get a big supply of toys ready for Santa Claus to distribute and asks the help of those interested. Any toys that you may give, regardless of their lack of paint or need of repair will be gladly accepted and painted and repaired by the Legionnaires. Those having toys to donate please telephone Luther Marsh, 495-W, Nevada City or Mr. Frank Clark, chairman of the Child Welfare Committee, Grass Valley.

BANNER MT. POST

Banner Mountain Post, V. F. W., and Auxiliary, have received an invitation to attend a joint installation of the post and auxiliary of Auburn Saturday evening, November 3. A number of the local members are planning to attend.

The Auxiliary, of Banner Mountain Post, entertained their District Deputy Inspector Laura Vierra and five other ladies of Marysville at their meeting Friday evening. Mrs. Max Weiss was initiated in to the order.

Five delegates, of Banner Mountain Post, motored to a district conference meeting of V. F. W., posts at Lincoln Thursday evening. Those making the trip were: C. E. Bosworth, Max Weiss, Ed Rose, George Cleland and Joseph Day. There were over 50 delegates at the meeting.

AIRPORT WILL BE COMPLETED IN THIRTY DAYS

The contract for completion of the airport project will be fullfilled in the specified limit of time or in 30 days according to City Engineer Ed C. Uren. The two runways for planes which are several hundred feet long, will be ready for use. Word came today that the contract for scarifying the airport with tractor and equipment had been let to a Sacramento firm.

CEDAR CREST GROVE

Cedar Crest Grove No. 41, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, spent a pleasant evening at cards after lodge Wednesday evening, October 24th. Mrs. Nancy Jones won door prize, Mrs. Anna Moore first prize at whist, Mrs. Dolly Jefferson second prize and Mrs. H. J. Ross consolation prize. The hall was interestingly decorated in Hallowe'en characters and autumn leaves. Chairman Soveign Carney and committee served delicious refreshments. Little cheese pumpkins; doughnuts and coffee, gave them a Hallowe'en flavor.

BLUE POINT GRAVEL

The old company that opened the Blue Point gravel mine, spent $450,000 to drive a 2,300 foot tunnel to the Yuba River as a tail race. It is stated three and a half tons of quicksilver were used in the sluiceway, in this long tunnel, in one charge. After the company had spent the vast sum of money the minority stockholders got together and closed it down. It has been closed 25 years.

PEOPE VS. FITZGERALD AND GASQUE

In the preliminary hearing of the case of the people against Fitzgerald and Gasque on Tuesday morning, October 23, in Judge Mobley's court, on a charge of alleged burgalry, the case was continued until Wednesday morning, October 31. Absence of state witnesses was urged as the reason for the request which was granted.

Miss Marietta Ragon, of Grove St., is having a two room cottage built on her property.

VICTORY FOR YELLOW JACKETS SCORE WAS 7 TO 0

Nevada City high's stalwart gridders came through last Friday with a victory of 7-0 over an equalweight consignment of Grass Valley Miners. The touchdown play was scored on a left-tackle cross buck by Younkin. The Yellow jackets were brought into scoring position by a pass reverse—Didauf to Bud, to Steger. Budi then tried a couple of line-bucks, and finally Younkin carried the ball over the chalk for the touchdown. The conversion was made on a "fake man in motion" play pass to Steger.

The boys who crouched for the first gun were:

RE—Ray Steger.
T—Lloyd Haddy.
G—Mervin Doolittle.
C—Carl Tobiassen.
LG—Morris Roberts.
QB—Dick Stevens.
LH—Don Budi.
RH—Red Ralls.
FB—Don Jones.

Substitutes were: Allen Widauf, Ray Wilde, Curtis Clark, Dick Bennett, Bill Bennett, and Tod Bonner. The Nevada City boys were on the whole, a little heavier than the selected Grass Valley team, according to Coach Barron, although the heaviest regular on the Nevada City team weighs only 148 pounds. Nevada City made fifteen or sixteen first downs to Grass Valley five, but the Yellow Jacket's progress was severely retarded by poor blocking, and by fumbles—four fumbles and three were recovered by Grass Valley. There will be a return game with Grass Valley on Saturday, November 17th, with a Grass Valley team slightly heavier than the one beaten by the Yellow Jackets Friday.

The Yellow Jackets are to play San Juan next Saturday.

Personal

Ed Carey, brother of Mrs. J. C. Scheemer, and Henry Jacobs, saw a large black bear cross the road ahead of them while they were on the way to the Lava Cap mine out near Banner Mountain, last Friday. The big brute slowly crossed the road and disappeared in the woods.

Miss May Cress, of Sacramento, came up a few days ago and is staying at the home of Mrs. Ed Smith on Park Avenue.

Miss Elma Hecker, deputy county recorder, who was operated on last Friday for the removal of her tonsils, is still in the sanitarium and is making a good recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Dolan and Mrs. Charles Guenther, motored to Sacramento today to spend the day.

Chester Scheemer, of the Plaza Grocery, and his force of clerks, Henry Jacobs, Harrison Randall, Frank Guenther, Harry Evans, and John Sbaffi, motored to Sacramento Thursday evening and attended a grocer's meeting and banquet.

Gordon Bettles brought his daughter, Miss Betty Bettles, student at the University of California, up from Berkeley. She will spend a short

An unusual sight is a second crop of apples on a June apple tree at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Murchie on East Broad street, which promises to mature, making two crops for the year on the tree.

Fred Breese, who has been seriously ill is a little better today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones, left Saturday for Oakland where they will spend the winter Mr. Jones owns the Gold Standard mine, 22 miles east of Nevada City at the head of Steep Hollow. He has recently leased it for one year to four men who are now working it. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will return here about the first of June.

Little Mary Jane Hawkins, about four years old, who has a pretty playroom of her own in the home recently purchased by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hawkins, decorated the room for Hallowe'en and entertained members of her family. She carried out her own ideas in arranging the pretty and wierd decorations.

TENTATIVE PLANS BEAR VALLEY CUT OFF DEDICATION

There is a movement on foot here sponsored by the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce to have a dedictaory and opening ceremony of the opening of Bear Valley cut-off of the TahoeUkiah highway.

It is proposed that the Board of Supervisors and the Chamber of Commerce, of Nevada, Yuba, and Sutter counties, take part and that the citizens from these counties attend in caravan and when the cord across the highway is broken at the dedicatory ceremony that they drive over the new stretch of road.

It has been suggested that James O'Brien, of Smartsville, who began about twenty years ago to try to get this road through, be the speaker of the day.

The dedication will take place on Sunday, November 11, Armistice Day. Definite plans will be announced later.

FORTUNA MINE TO BE REOPENED

The Fortuna mine, which is to be reopened shortly, has a history that closely links itself with many prominent Nevada City and Grass Valley business men.

As related by Capt. George A. Nihel, the mine was discovered in the early 80's by Charles Beedle, R. E. Robison and others. This group by surface work took out quite a large quantity of high grade ore and sold out to a company headed by Congressman Page. A steam plant was put up and the shaft sunk on the Fortuna ledge. Considerable ore was taken out under their holding and from some unknown cause did not receive enough revenue to consider the mine favorable.

The company gave a bond to other parties which was represented by George Mainhart, mining engineer of Grass Valley. Under his management considerable ore was taken out at the 200 foot station. The property was abandoned and laid idle several years and then relocated by W. F. Englebright and W. W. Waggoner, who got a United States patent on the property and incorporated it with other holdings in connection with theirs, which they bonded to the Summit Mining Company, of which Charles W. Howard, of the Spring Valley Water Company, was the dominant figure. The company placed Captain George A. Nihel in charge of the mine with instructions to sink 1,000 feet. When the mine was down 400 feet a large flow of water was encountered. The parties became dissatisfied and the mine was again abandoned and remained so ever since.

The present shaft is down 417 feet and is to be reopened with Captain George A. Nihel again in charge.

AUGUST FRANDY PASSES

Word has been received of the death of August Frandy in Lodi. He was a member of the Nevada City Elks lodge. The funeral will take place Wednesday, October 31 at 11 a. m. from the Holmes Funeral Parlors.

WEATHER FORCAST FOR U. S.

In an effort to explain California's weather, scientists of the University of California Scripps Institution of Oceanography, La Jolla, have explored a section of the Pacific Ocean forty miles wide, two miles deep, and stretching from the Aleutian Islands to Hawaii.

GIANT WALNUTS

A. Durbin, of Nevada Street, brought some giant walnuts into the Nugget office which are now on display in the Nugget window.

TUNA PACKING CENTER

The most important tuna packing center of the Pacific Coast is San Diego, home of the California Pacific International Exposition. About 26,774,000 pounds of tuna a year are brought to its five canneries.

THIRD DISTRICT P. T. A. MEETING WILL BE HELD NEVADA CITY NOV. 21

Mrs. Henry Webber, of Colfax, as president of the Third P. T. A. district, has announced a meeting in Nevada City on November 21. The district includes cities as far south and including Sacramento, then extending north over a wide territory. About 40 delegates are expected. The forenoon will be devoted to business, at the afternoon session there is to be a speaker and musical program.

The meeting will be held in the Methodist church. Luncheon is to be served at the National Hotel.

SHAFT ON ICARD RANCH

The new shaft started recently on the Icard Ranch, west, of Grass Valley, is down 75 feet and work is continuing at a steady rate. Mr. Icard's mother was born at the ranch in 1853. His grandmother was also born there.

Although development of the Icard ranch will continue, it is understood George W. Icard will return to the Philippine Island before long, as he owns and operates the Keystone mine near Baguio in Benquet. It is expected his mine superintendent, Mr. Morrison, will return with him.

MANY VISITORS TO HOUSE REHABILITATED BY HOME LOAN

Donald Strandberg reports that over a hundred persons have visited during the past few days, at his house on Grove street, which he rehabilitated through a Federal Home Loan. Mr. Stranberg states that the visitors were all greatly interested in costs of paint, repairs and new work.

LELAND SMITH ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Smith left today for Ogden, Utah, where Mr. Smith will attend a conference of all grazing officials of the National Forests. Mr. Smith is at the head of the grazing department of the Tahoe-Ukiah National Forest, with office in Nevada City.

MT. HOUSE ROAD NEEDS MENDING

CAMPTONVILLE, Oct. 25.—Residents and mining people who live and operate in the southeastern part of Sierra county are experiencing great hardship and difficulty in traveling to and from their property due to the deplorable condition of the old Mountain House road from the Yuba county line north. A few years ago this road was controlled by the Forest Service, but recently it was given back to Sierra county with the result of practically no work being done on it until a point is reached wherein it is almost impassible.

The local Forest Service put a little gravel on a few break waters and some of the people of that section endeavored to drain it here and there during the storm, but were unable to do much with a result that the water has run down the ruts cutting some of them over a foot deep, and with this continued neglect, with the amount of travel that goes over the road, it will only be a matter of time until travel will have to cease.

This road is one of the most traversed roads in Sierra county; in the summer much travel goes that way to Forest and Alleghany, and along with this, several good mining enterprises are located in this section, necessitating hauling their supplies by this road, including the True Grit, Snowden Hill, Halkyard mine, Altaview, American Flag, Indian Hill and Sleighville House. The people operating these properties are bringing in outside money to develop and cause industry in the country and the road is such as to almost bar them out. A petition is being circulated asking the Sierra County Board of Supervisors to make an appropriation to make this road passable.

The mile and a half of this road from Camptonville to the Sierra county line is fairly good, but can stand improvement, and it is proposed to include the repair and improvement of this in a SERA project for Yuba county.

BETTER HOUSING CAMPAIGN WILL AFFECT INDUSTRY

If general trade indices start a more decided upward slant in the United States within the next month or so, it will be safe to say that the Better Housing Campaign can claim a generous portion of the responsibility.

So far as know, no other single feature of the national recovery program ramifies through so many trades and industries.

The Better Housing Campaign takes root first in the basic, or heavy industries and spirals upward until it has reached practically every avenue of wholesale and retail trade.

When the National Housing Act was signed by the President on June 27, 1934, it was estimated that approximately 4,000,000 men and women, formerly employed either in the construction industry itself or in allied or contributing industries, would be returned to work. In the way the American people to date have supported the Federal Housing Act, it is safe to say this number or more will find employment and purchasing power in general will be augmented.

NEVADA COUNTY NUGGETS

William Wasley, who lives at Town Talk, brought hix Burbank potatoes to the Nugget office this morning that weigh 15 pounds, the largest weighing three pounds. Some potatoes dug on the property weighed as much as four and five pounds each.

He planted 40 sacks of certified seed on three acres and figures on harvesting 400 sacks to the acre or 1,200 sacks. He has sold 400 sacks and retails these choice potatoes at $2.50 per sack.

To raise these potatoes the ground was fertilized two years and then a ton of commercial fertilizer at $60 per ton was used. He found that a few dollars for fertilizer meant the difference between profit and loss. The sprinkler system was used in irrigation.

Mr. Wasley paid $200 per acre for this land and will receive a gross return of $800 for the two year period. He is an experienced potato raiser, having raised them for the past 12 years. He plans to save 500 sacks for seed potatoes.

WELL BABY CONFERENCE

Dr. Ellen Stadt Miller, of the State Department of Child Hygiene, will hold a well baby conference in the sewing room of the Washington grammar school on Friday, November 1. She will hold the conference all day and will examine infants and small children. Those desiring to make appointments please phone Nevada City 45 on Wednesday or Thursday.

LOCAL MAN OPERATED ON

Drs. W. W. Reed and Carl P. Jones performed an operation on Dan Coughlin, of Nevada City this morning at the Nevada City Sanitarium. From latest reports he is getting along nicely.

RED CROSS SEALS

Miss Woodward, who is in charge of the sale of Red Cross seals, has visited the Nevada City, Hobart Mills and Gold Flat schools, where she was received with much interest. She gave talks along health lines and brought many new ideas to the children.

The seal sale starts Thanksgiving Day. Money received from the sale is to be used for correcting teeth, eye and tonsil troubles of children who are not in a position to have the work done.

REV. CHARLES WASHBURN TO ADDRESS THE P. T. A.

At the regular P. T. A. meeting Friday afternoon, Rev. Charles Washburn will give a special address to the members. Addison Jaynes will also speak on the Athletic Club and explain the outline. The meeting opens at 2:00 o'clock in an upstairs room.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Risley moved in to their new home yesterday. It is situated on a lot adjoining the Tony Rore home, on Prospect Hill, vacation at home.

THE "MENACE" LOSES

No longer need voters fear Sinclair. Merriam forces now cheerfully admit that "menace" has passed. Sinclair cannot be elected. The Literary Digest poll of last Thursday counts Sinclair out and Merriam leading. Those who have been holding their noses while declaring their intention of voting for Merriam in order to defeat Sinclair are now released.

The air clears, no one needs to vote for Merriam to head off the novelist, but anyone can vote as conscience dictates—for Raymond L. Haigt and avoid the very real menace which Merriam presents.

In this period of transition from the old order of capitalistic control of government to the new order of governmental regulation of capitalism—for that is what the New Deal means if it means anything—the election of an old Iowa shellback prohibitionist, reactionary, little brother of the rich, such as Frank Merriam is, is a distinct menace to the New Deal.

The Old Guard Republicans and Democrats have done their best with whitewash, gilded pewter halo, card board wings, and face lifting, to give Frank Merriam the semblance of evangelist of Progressivism. It is no use. He is the same old Frank to whom the Iowans gladly wished bon voyage years ago.

The whitewash will flake away in no time at all and the spots will stand out again.

Why not choose a clean young son of California for Governor? Haight made a splendid record as California Corporation Commissioner. While in that office he denied and revoked over 4,000 licenses to sell phoney or worthless stock.

BIRTHDAY FELICITATIONS

The splendid birthday issue of the Grass Valley Morning Union will remind all its readers of its long service to Nevada County. In historical association with the growth of Grass Valley, and the development of mining, the Union occupies a place in California journalism without peer. It is among the few Argonaut journals that date back to the times of the Civil War. The Nevada City Nugget congratulates the Union upon the occasion of its seventieth anniversary of devotion and service to the highest interests of Nevada County.

Cat Chat--Catributed

Me an' the nabor's cat has a game this a. m. with nut results, w'ich these is those. We meats erly an' salutes; "play bawl," I cat calls, an' we begins.

He makes a four pas w'ich is uncatpleted, an' I slams him fur a double he drugs me down under the close line with over the fense tu go. We falls in a clinch an' takes time out.

We meow squares off an' faints, feline eech uther out; he smashes a bot rite tu mi wind an' slides tu third. I lets him hav it on the button; we flies out tu centre field an' goes down fur the count.

The nabor's cat then teas off an' steels a hum run. I makes a leepin' takkel an' pins him tu his oan dore mat; the fur flies. He serves a mene toe holt, wi'ch I returns with a half Nelsun; he spikes me an' I socks him twict in the solar plexim; "fowl!" he catwails, an' we'en I looks up to sea wher at, he grabs hisself a birdie an' walks.

The game ends rite ther'. His missis cums tu the dore an slings a bier bottel, sum oranges an' a baked appel wi'ch spatters; ther' is langwidge also.

BETWEEN THE LINES

By Alexander McNulty

A NEEDED REFORM

Our country, for all its boasted advancement in many lines, is still sadly behind in other respects. This is particularly true in those things which have to do with affairs that seem to have a trend toward any collective effort that may smack of socialism or the thing that many people confuse with circulation; socioligy.

Statistics gathered by the government during Hoover's administration brought forth the astonishing fact that a majority of the American people received no medical attention whatsoever. Facts and figures further prove that innumerable doctors, nurses and dentists are unable to practice their professions due to inability of their potential patients to pay for their services, the fact that the great majority of physicians, a profession demanding long and expensive training, have yearly incomes between one thousand and two thousand dollars; and that a great many hospitals have already gone and more going, into bankruptcy.

In certain sections of the nation, especially in agricultural regions, the almost unbelievable fact, obtains that at this time there exists entire communities and sections wherein no medical services are obtainable, the doctors having been forced to move away because their clients were unable to support them.

This is merely another of our amazing paradoxes—the same as watching people go hungry because there is an over abundance of food.

In this case we have a generous supply—in the form of talent, services, hospitals, in fact everything pertaining to medical science. Demand there is in abundance, but a potential demand and not what is known an effective demand, or one that will support their medical profession.

More and more these two forces, on the one hand the medical profession and on the other the public, are beginning to realize to what has long been realized and put into practice in almost all other civilized countries. This realization is; that the same principles that apply to life, accident, fire or any other form of insurance, may be applied to health insurance.

Such insurance is not a thing that must be pioneered. In other countries and in some parts of this country it ih well established and proving highly satisfactory to everyone involved.

A reactionary body, the American Medical Association has been the principal opponent of this greatly needed reform in our social life: fearful of having its control of the medical profession usurped by governmental agencies. It even denounced health insurance as 'Socialistic and Communistic'—inciting to revolution.'

Common sense however, is bound to assert itself and as the fact becomes more widly known that it is possible by the prepayment of a very nominal sum either by the month or year; a family may insure itself of any or all medical attention, medicine and hospitalization that it may require, and the men and women of the medical profession realize what benefits they will derive from such an arrangement, you may be sure that universal health insurance is not far distant.

ROBBERS' ROOST

Zane Grey

Copyright.—WNU Service.

"Fellers," Hays said at the end of the meal, "I forgot to tell you thet we took a little money from Herrick. I'll make a divvy on thet today."

This news was received with manifest satisfaction.

"How much, about, Hank?" asked Bridges, eagerly.

"Whew! Thet added to what I've got will make me flush. An' I'm gonna keep it."

"Hank, as there's no deal in sight all summer, an' mebbe not then, we can gamble, huh?"

"Boss, I forgot to tell you thet I bought a couple of jugs at the junction," spoke up Smoky, contritely.

"Wal, no matter, only it 'pears we're all forgettin' things," said the leader, somewhat testily.

"Hank, when're you aimin' to collect ransom fer the girl?"

"Smoky, I wish we had time to talk. But I'll say this right from the shoulder: It's up to you and me to see no harm comes to this girl."

"Why you an' me, Jim?" returned Smoky, his penetrating eyes on Wall's.

"That's why I wish I had time to talk. But you've got to take me straight. If I wasn't here you'd do your best for her—that's my hunch. . . . Shoot now, quick! Hays is suspicious."

"Wal, yore a sharp cuss, Jim," returned Smoky, going back to his pack. "I'm with you. One of us has always got to be heah in camp, day an' night. Do you savvy?"

"Yes. . . . Thanks, Smoky. Somehow I'd have sworn by you," replied Jim, hurriedly, and retraced his steps to the fire.

CHAPTER VIII

After breakfast Hays led his men, except Latimer, up through the west outlet, from which they climbed to the highest point in the vicinity. Every point of the green hole was in plain sight. Every approach to it, even that down the dark gully, lay exposed.

Brad Lincoln said sarcastically: "So you been savin' this roost for your old age?"

They left Jim on the bluff to keep the first watch.

Jim had Miss Herrick's word as to the amount taken from her. It was a certainty that Hays had also robbed her brother. But he had not reported the truth as to the amount; and this was another singular proof of the disintegration of the chief's character.

In all likelihood Sparrowhawk Latimer was aware of this omission on the chief's part. Probably he had been bribed to keep his mouth shut. Whatever there was to learn Jim meant to learn.

While his thoughts ran in this fashion, skipping from one aspect to another, Jim's keen manipulation of the field glass followed suit. And after each survey he would shift the glass back to the oval bowl where the robbers were at work.

Some were carrying water, brush, stones, while other were digging postholes. Hays began to lay a square fireplace of flat stones. The stone, sand, water were fetched to him but he did the building himself. An hour or so after the start the square grate appeared to be completed, and the chimney was going up. Four cottonwoods formed the four corner posts of the shack. Poles of the same wood were laid across for beams. Probably Hays would construct a roof of brush, and give it pitch enough so that it would shed water.

Long after noonday, and when Jim had spent at least six hours on watch, Jeff Bridges detached himself from his comrades and laboriously made his way up the long slope to the bluff upon which Jim was stationed.

Jim relinquished the glass and his seat to Bridges. He made his way leisurely down off the smooth red ledges to the slope, and eventually to the valley floor.

Dorothy Roberts Entertains At Hallowe'en Party

Dorothy Roberts entertained several little friends at a Hallowe'en party Saturday. There were twelve present and they enjoyed an afternoon of games. Refreshments were served at a table decorated in the Hallowe'en motif.

ELKS LODGE HALLOWE'EN DINNER ON THURSDAY NOVEMBER THE FIRST

The next regular semi-monthly dinner of the Elks Lodge, will be put on by the members of the house committee, Thursday night November 1, at six-thirty o'clock. The dinner is to be in the nature of a Hallowe'en affair. The banquet room of the lodge will be decorated with autumn leaves and flowers. The tabls to be set with Hallowe'en favors.

The dinner will consist of: Relishes, crab salad, sweet pickled baked ham with wine sauce, sweet potaoes, fresh green beans, pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

The committee in charge will give away free two door prizes. First prize, one large sugar cured ham, second prize, one large roast of beef.

GRACE MOORE IN "ONE NIGHT OF LOVE" AT NEVADA

Tonight brings Robert Louis Stevenson's immortal novel, "Treasure Island" to the Nevada Theater screen. Jackie Cooper plays the part of Jim Hawkins and Wallace Beery, has the role of Long John Silver, the rascally old pirate. The picture follows the book faithfully to the smallest detail. Both children and adults will love this marvelously thrilling adaption of the Stevenson novel.

Otto Kruger and Chic Sale are included in the cast. There will be a matinee, Tuesday at 2:15.

Moviedom hails a new, vibrant, glamorous screen personality . . . . the ravishing, sadiant Grace Moore, screen star, concert artist and radio singer, and star of the film sensation, "One Night of Love," which will show Thursday and Friday at the Nevada Theater.

Her triumphant song literally transports one into a fairyland world of music, beauty and thrilling emotion. Her glorious, alluring charm, her vibrant personality radiates a magnetism from the screen that is captivating and seductive. America has taken her to its heart as an opera star—it will welcome her with lavish praise as the new screen sensation!

"One Night of Love" is not Miss Moore's first screen venture. She formerly appeared with Lawrence Tibbett in the cinematization of "New Moon" and again as "Jenny Lind" in "A Lady's Morals." But "One Night of Love" is the first production to give full sway to her rich beauty, her golden-toned voice and her dramatic ability.

Supporting Miss More in "One Night of Love" is the romantic Tullio Carminati, Lyle Talbot, Mona Barie, Jessie Ralph and Andres De Segurola, Metropolitan Opera Star Victor Schertzinger directed.

There will be two matinees for this great picture Wednesday and Thursday at 2:15.
